At Greenock, on the 22nd inst., Excuse the beloved wife of J. Dionin. (By tel gram.)

Hongkong, October 24th, 1896. THE correspondence of Mr. J. W. DAVID son which we have recently published gives a very painful picture of the position of affairs in the Philippines. The most striking feature is the torturing of the prisoners to him for wages. The Chinese bookkeeper taken by the Spanish. It appears almost incredible that at the end of the ninetcenth century the instruments of torture of the Inquisition days should be resurrected and brought into actual use. The statement makes the blood boil, and we would fain hope that the Manila Government may be able to give some contradiction to an allegation of conduct that must etrike the whole civilised world as abominable. Unfortunately, however, the statement appears too entegorical to admit of contradiction it rests not only on the assertions of possible opponents of Spanish rule, but it is said the Spaniards themselves admit and justify the practice. If that be so, it may be taken as the certain handwriting on the wall foretelling the ultimate downfall of Spanish rule Even if the present rebellion be suppressed -a task which it now appears will not be easy of accomplishment—the memory of these cruelties will dwell with the antives, will intensify the batred they bear towards their rulers, and will predispose them to make another blow for liberty at the first favourable opportunity. The use of torture also suggests another danger to Spanish rule, namely, that of foreign intervention. Where the laws of humanity are grossly outraged by a Government any other Government prepared to assume the responsibility and incur the risks involved in interference may plead justification for such a course. Between the Japanese and the natives of the Philippines there exist defended the prisoners, who pleaded not guilty. racial offinities and the Japanese Government might plead the same right to interfore for the protection of the Philippines R. K. Leigh, and E. W. Mitchell that the Christian nations of Europe claim to possess in regard to the affairs of Turkey. It would be a startling circumstance to see a pagan nation interfering for the protection of the subjects of a Christian Government, but such interference has now come within the c'clook, the two prisoners went on board bounds of possibility. Japan has been credited with a desire to annex the Philippines. and there can be no doubt that the addition of those rich islands to the Empire of the Rising Sun would afford much gratification to the Japanese nation. Japan has bound berself by treaty, however, to recognise the Bashee Channel as demarcating her sphere of influence from that of Spain, and there is no reason to suppose that any intention exists on her part to go in which case she would denounce the treaty ever, she would doubtless encounter opposition from various European Powers, which, is opening the door for diplomatic reanything like settled government in the recognition as belligerents, which would to them. In any case, and however doubtful this forceast of the probable attitude of Japan may be, cortain it is that if Government in the Philippines is established tolerated by the civilized world in the of Ho Tsui Sang. present day and the Government that practices it must either reform its methods

The police are making enquiries about curious shooting ascident which was reported to them yesterday as having occurred on Thurs. day morning in Taikoktsui Bay, A fishing boat woman received a stray bullet in her right thigh while she was on her boat, and the missile passed through the flesh and then penetrated the woodwork of the boat She was attended to at the hospital and now the police want to know where the bullet, which is of the new Magazine rife pattern, came from. In the morning a company of the Rifle Brigade was on the old military 800 yards range, and the Royal Engineers, the submarine miners, and a num. bar of blue jackets were also engaged in shoot [2422 ing practice, and it is surmised that the bullet came from one of these parties.

SUPPLIED TO THE "DAILY PRESS." LONDON, 21st October. CELEBRATION OF TRAFALGAR DAY IN LONDON:

Trafalgar day (yesterday) was largely colebrated in London under the auspices of the Navy Longue. Nelson's Column in Trafalgar Square was entwined by a colossal wreath from top to bottom. Great crowds were present in the Square and patrictic speeches were made Mr. Goschen declined to lend a guard of honour of marines and blue-jackets. The papers concur in the opinion that the demonstration implied nothing hostile to foreign nations, but only the awakening of Great Britain to the importance of the Navy.

BEFORE HIS HONOUR DR. CARRINGTON (CHIEF JUSTICE.)

THE CAUSEWAY BAY MURDER

Chun Tai Yun and Wong Tong Shui were charged with the murder of He Tsui Sang at Causeway Bay on the 19th September. Hon, H. E. Pollock Acting Attorney General), instructed by Mr. Johnson (Crow) Bolicitor), appeared for the prosecution and Mr C. A. D. Melbourno (instructed by Mr. Roece)

The following gentlemen composed the special ury :- Messra C. A. Tomes, H. L. Dalrymple, Fung Wa Chun, N. A. Siele, J. H. Garrelle The Acting Attorney-General explained the facts of the case and said that the two prisoners were jockeys employed at Mr. Kennedy stables. Causewny Bay. Both came from the north, while the murdered man, Ho Tsui Song, was a Hukka man and was employed as a mafee On the evening of 19th September, about seven campara which was lying a few fact from the shero at Conseway Bay and smoked oigarettes. About a quarter of an hour afterwards He Tau Sang and three Hakkas, who were also employed as mafoos, went on board. Ho Tsui Sang asked a woman and her daughter who were in the boat to take them for a row in the harbour, but the campan women said they could not as the sampan was licensed to carry only six passengers. Ho Tmi Sang then got rather demonstrative and said he had 200 cash to pay the women. Then the first prisoner said be bad 200 cash and he ought to be taken for a row because he got into the boat first. Some kind of alternation then took place between He Tsui Bang and the first prisoner as to which of them should go for a row. The mistress of the samsoccasion should arise for such a course, pan in her evidence would say that Ho Taul Sang said to the first prisoner "I'll beat you to diseased the body is diseased. We have forwarded copies of the two letters from Hon, Mr. Chater to H.E. the Governor of the 13th November, 1894, and 16th September, 1895, advocating the extension of our frontier on naval lines. Your Committee the Navy League the great and growing nocessity for the re-enactment of the Contagious Diseases Act, and we have every reason to hope and expect that that A of will be law again before long. We have drawn the attention of the Leagne to the present nusatisfactory working of the Royal Naval Reserve under the Board of Trade, in so far as our colonies are concerned. Up to a short time ago no time expired Royal Naval Reserve man could resume his engagoment in this or any other colony, but I am glad to say that this has been rectified quite lately. The fact still remains that no A. B. seaman or officer can join the Royal Naval Reserve except in England think that the members will ngree with their Committee that in our colonies the working of the Royal Naval Reserve should be placed under the control of the Admiralty, giving the Commander-in-Chief of the Station, or the Sonier Naval officer, the power to enroll both officers and mon. Some interesting tables have been compiled and forwarded to the head office of the Liengue-for which wo have to thank Captain Hastings and other members of your Committee showing the estimated value of shipping and cargoes affeat on any given day between Singapore and the ports of China and Japan touching at Hongkong, and of vessule touching at Singapore that di not call at Hongkong. To this must be added 234 river steamers, aggregating 261,263 tons, plying to Canton and Macae to and from Hongkong, muking a total of 2,471 British ships, of 3.328,788 registered tennage or a daily average of 82 ships, measuring 110,959 tons, affoat. Taking #10 a ton as a fair valuation for ship and cargo, £1,109,590 are exposed to daily capture in our waters by an enemy. (Applause.) I prosume that you many of you have studied Brassey's Naval Annual, or that part of it which deals with the progress of the British Navy. It says, "The clouds which from time to time of late have passed over our relations with foreign Powers have done good service to the British Empire in one respect at any rate; they have compalled citizens, not only in the mother country, but in the colonies, to recognise the vital importance of the Navy to their accurity." Perhaps the most salient feature of the naval work of late has been the nnexampled speed with which vessels have been constructed in our dockyards, and there seems every reason to supposo that the records established will not only be maintained in the future, but even in some cuses broken. At the same time it is somewhat: disquieting to reflect that although we may have the ships and the money we still lack the men to man ourfleet in its outirety. The personnel of the Navy has been increased during the past nine years by 31,000 men, but it has by no means kept pace with its requirements. To increase its number and efficiency requires money, and to this end the League is andeavouring to loosen. the pursestrings of the British Public and provo to them what an excellent investment it is even should it tond toward extravagance. Why should the School Board have that monopoly With this object in view the Navy League is working tooth and nail, In July last the the Secretary of the League-Mr. Moncrieff Wilson-visited Liverpool, and he induced the Chamber of Commerce there to call a special meeting for the purpose of hearing an address from Lord Charles Boresford on the Manuing of the feet," a report of which you will have meen in the August number of the Navy League Journal The result of that meeting was that the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce sent to all the leading Chambers of the country, 45 in number, and to 20 shipowaers societies, a special letter containing a copy of the resolution passed. at the meeting, and has further asked them to give it their support. The same course has been taken with political leaders, and the London and Provincial press have taken the matter up. The question was again considered at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at Southampton on the 15th of last month. I will with your permission, read the resolution passed at the meeting ;- " That this mooting having heard Lord Charles Beresford's sorious statements with regard to the manning of the Navy and the condition of the Naval Reserves, hereby desires to express its sense of the graye dangers of our present position, and negos Her Majesty a Government to at once institute a fail obquiry into the whole question of the minning of the Fleet, the Royal Naval Reserve, and the blorcantile Marine, with a view, if becessary to definite legislative proposals next year, including a suitable provision in the estimates. This mosting further resolves that copies of this resolution shall be forwarded to the Primo Minister, the First Lord of the Admiralty, the Earl of Rosebery, and the leaders of both sides in the House of Commons, and that the scoretary he instructed to write to the Chamber of Shipping of the United Kingdem, shipewners sociaties, and the chambers of commorce, calling their attention to the resolution. and asking them to take the matter up and give it their support." This army sufficient, one would think for people from attending -- but as we are here a defensive war against France, accomplished nothing, but the Spanish statesmen lose neither heart nor hope. There was comething of a stir in Apology 5 year, the runour of the famous mores broakdown spreading consternation in the ranks of her backers. In 1877, for instance, Lord Bradford's Managuvre started at the nice price of 100 to 1, and ran into third place. Snowden in 1881 rode Mr. Porking's Lucy Glitters into a similar posttion, starting at 56 to I, whilst G. PLIMMER'S VICTORY It is a very long time now since the Midland district would claim any particular distinction in sport, but the doings of Plimmer in Shoffield appear to have awakened a good deal of the old enbusiasm which had such a doal to do in years gone by with the successes of Tom Hill Authory Diamond and others, of less ranown. Manchester for a time showed promise of producing a few exceptionally fine boxers, for Gamble was always regarded as near championship form as he well could be without holding the honour, but I presume little is done in bringing boxing champions out. for we seldom hear of any of her sone coming to the front. Tyers, the ewimmer, would, I imagine, have made a grand boxer if he had not taken to the water like a duck. He may be greed with the gleres new, for angle I know. Few places, however, have produced more men of class in a short time than Birmingham, the metropolis of the Midlands, distinctly the most notable performer of the let being Tom Hill, the feather weight champion in 1881, 1882, and 1883. Once or twice Northampton has produced boxers of rare ability. Douglas, who I remember sparring somewhere about 1886 or 1887, being an exceptionally good man. W. A. J. West too, did the shoemaking capital a turn by winning the heavy weight championship, although Birmingham shared in the honour. West baying been born in the ericket would sourcely credit him with having won a boxing championship. West had a fine style for a long man, and could give an artistic display of the noble arths well as any boxer I have seen, with the exception, perhaps, of Hill. But to come back to "the workshop of the world," as Birmingham has been tormed, late years have witnessed a strange deterioration in form, which goes to prove that until a real good leader is forthcoming boxing will make little headway in the district. Indeed, there appears to be panoity of sound amateur boxers all over the kingdom, the winners of champiouship honours in recent years, with few exceptions, comparing very poorly with those who wen the events when the A.B.A. was first formod. Plimmer's victory may do something, as I have already mil to awaken interest alresh, but the tendency of the ago is to cycle, and only a few sports and partimes can hold thoir own against the fascination of the whool. in the Arctic Seas, &c. DR. GORDON STABLES, E.N. To Greenland and the Pole," "The Croise the Snowbird."" Nature and Science," &c.

Being a Series of Ten Articles, Descriptive of the Polar Regions, Life and Perils

THE great amount of interest taken by the public at present in the Frezen North, and in the recent various Polar Expeditions, indicates the timeliness of a Series of Articles dealing with the Arctic Regions, and written by a competent authority. We have, therefore, pleasure in announcing that the Syndicate of which the Hongkong Daily Press is a member has commissioned Dr. Gordon Stances to write such a Series. Dr. STARLES, who enjoys large popularity as an Author, has twice visited the Polar Regions, and there is little about the Arolie Circle that he does not know and is not able to describe most graphically. The first Article appeared on 12th October Hongkong, 12th October, 1896.
